Fund Manager's Report

Market Review

The fund's NAV went up by 4.5% in this June, while the benchmark MSCI Zhonghua Index increased by 6.8% in the same month. Including the dividend of HK$ 4.3 paid on May 28th, the fund advanced by 14.1% year to date, which outperformed the benchmark index by 2.1 percent points. Mainly affected by the easing of Sino-US trade disputes and rising market risk appetite, the global stock market rebounded in June. S&P 500 Index, Hang Seng Index and Shanghai Shenzhen CSI 300 Index rose by 6.5%, 6.1% and 5.6% respectively in June. At the sector level, Consumer Discretionary, Materials and Financials outperformed, and Health Care, Utilities, Industrials significantly underperformed.

Market Outlook

Sino-US trade disputes are the biggest uncertainty of the current economy and market. China needs to guard against the potential double dip in economy brought by trade disputes. If the trade environment or China macroeconomics deteriorates, flexible fiscal and monetary policies including further tax cuts and monetary easing will alleviate the pressure to some extent, but it is difficult to fully hedge. To against current unclear trade and economic situation, we may maintain relatively low stock positions. We will maintain our position on quality stocks. We will focus on investment opportunities in Consumers, China Financials and Utilities, and pay attention to the trading opportunities in Information Technology, Aviation, Auto and China Brokerage sectors.
